

MANCINI TSA APPROVED LUGGAGE COMBINATION LOCK OPERATING INSTRUCTIONS

The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) screeners and airline check-in staff at airports are trained to recognize the Travel Sentry® logo. They understand that baggage with locks displaying this mark is permitted to remain locked. TSA screeners have access to master keys that allow them to open those locks in the event that the baggage must be opened for inspection. With Travel Sentry® official locks the TSA agents can open checked luggage without having to break the lock.

For your security, there is no generic "reset code" or way to reset an unknown combination. If this is a new purchase, the combination may have been set inadvertently at the retail location. In this case, please contact the point of purchase in regards to their exchange policy. If you have forgotten your combination, unfortunately the lock will need to be replaced.

This combination lock has been factory set to open at 0-0-0.

To set your own combination:

Set the Dials (2) to the current combination.

Push the Reset Button (1) using the tip of a pointed object (ball-point pen, paperclip, etc.) until you hear a CLICK sound. The Reset Button (1) will remain depressed.

Set the Dials (2) to your new combination. (Choose digits that you will remember easily - address, phone number, birthday, etc.)

DO NOT FORGET YOUR NEW COMBINATION!

Push the Lock Release Button (3) until you hear a CLICK sound and the Reset Button (1) has returned to its original position. Your new combination has been set.

IMPORTANT! If the lock has been opened by TSA screeners, the keyhole position will be perpendicular to the Red Indicator (4). Make sure to reset the cylinder by inserting any tool into the keyhole and rotating it to line up with the Red Indicator (4).
